

Traditions of Leadership: Azuma Kagami Translation Workshop

August 10 - 12
2018
University of Cambridge

Welcome

Welcome to Cambridge and to the Azuma kagami workshop, which we hope will mark the very first step towards a unique project. The goal, as you know, is to offer an open, online translation, which can be used by students and researchers interested in this fabulous chronicle. Equally unique, if not more so, is the way we are proposing to accomplish this through a world-wide network of clusters working together across disciplinary and national boundaries.

We would like here to acknowledge the support of the sponsors that have made this workshop possible: the Great Britain Sasakawa Foundation, the Daiwa Anglo-Japanese Foundation, Japan Foundation, the Faculty of Asian and Middle Eastern Studies, and the Japanese Studies Subject Group at Cambridge. We hope you will enjoy the inspiring surroundings and your time here in general.
